MORTON BANQUETED.

Complimentary Dinner Tendered to the Vice President.

THE ENTIRE SENATE ATTENDS.

Without Distinction of Party, Scarcely a Senator of Any Prominence Was Absent—Extracts From the Speech of the Guest of the Evening.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Vice President Levi P. Morton was honored last night as none of his predecessors have been. The entire senate, without distinction of party, united in tendering a complimentary dinner, and in bearing testimony to the admirable manner in which he has presided over the deliberation of the upper chamber of congress for the past four years.

The banquet, which was held in the beautiful hall of the Arlington, was the best that skill and taste could supply, the decorations most effective and the company as distinguished as could well be, inasmuch as scarcely one senator of prominence was absent.

Among the guest who participated in the proceedings were ex-Senators William M. Evarts and T. W. Palmer, General Alger, Mr. Frank Hatton, Mr. P. V. Degraw, Mr. H. L. West and Mr. H. C. Clarke.

Senator Manderson, president pro tem. of the senate, was chairman and toastmaster, and his ready wit and graceful rhetoric never once permitted the proceedings to flag. Messrs. Hale, Cockrell, Evarts, Vilas and other orators were fully equal to the occasion.

The guest of the evening, the vice president, responded as follows:

"There are events in the life of every man that stand out with some prominence, and make some imprint upon him, that an indelible impression remains while memory holds its seal.

"This occasion, so flattering to me, the speeches so complimentary, your cordial greeting and the hearty good will expressed in such pleasing form shall ever live within the book and volume of my brain, unmixed with baser matter."

"Four years ago I came, through the suffrages of the citizens of this great republic, to the high place, the main duty of which is to preside over the deliberative body, recognized as the highest in the world, of which you, the representatives of 44 sovereign states forming one powerful nation, are members.

"I brought to the position very limited experience and little knowledge of parliamentary law, for my life had been cast in places where such knowledge is not to be acquired. I feel the full force of my shortcomings, but relied with trusting confidence upon that gentle forbearance that has ever characterized the senate of the United States.

"Experience has shown that my trust had abundant foundation. That here and elsewhere) has been because of the generous and unselfish support received by me from all members of the body without distinction of party and without bias from political affiliations.

"I would be lacking in the common sense of abilities did I not feel overwhelmed with gratitude and express in the strongest words that my tongue (too feeble to express the full emotions of my heart) is capable of forming, the thanks, the sincere and hearty thanks, with which I acknowledge the compliment so generously paid me.

"I am greatly beholden also to the efficient officers and employes of the senate who, smoothing my way, have been the guides along a parliamentary path by me unexplored and over many a rugged road to me unknown.

"The distinguished gentleman who will in a very few days, succeed me has cause for congratulation, and at the end of his service will have like occasion for satisfaction that the support and countenance ever accorded to its presiding officer by the senate will be his, rendering the performance of a grave and important duty a pleasant and attractive function."

Mr. Morton closed by a graceful allusion to the retiring president, of whom he said:

"In a few days there will pass to private life the man who won distinction as a soldier in the period of war, and lasting renown as a civilian in time of peace. A patriotic citizen, a safe counselor, a thorough statesman, a wise ruler, the name of Benjamin Harrison will shine brighter with the light that comes with every passing year."

His remarks were received by demonstrations of approval.

Ex-Senator Evarts touchingly referred to President Harrison's domestic afflictions and then proposed his health. He followed the toast with a speech, which was well received.

Senator Hale followed with the most humorous speech of the evening and Mr. Cockrell of Missouri made a historical reference to the 22 vice presidents who have heretofore filled the chair, of whom Mr. Morton is the sole survivor.

Mr. Hiscock paid an eloquent tribute to the state of New York stating that it was no more nearly now "finished" as a state than it was 100 years back when its undeveloped agricultural resources invited the immigration of the adventurous sons of northern Europe and New England.

Mr. Vilas spoke for "The North," Mr. Butler for "The South," Mr. Hoar for "The East," and Mr. Cullom for "The West" and "Business Men in Politics."

The proceedings were protracted to a very late hour, but were marked by the utmost harmony and good feeling.

BLOOMINGTON, Ills., Feb. 28.—Vice President-elect Stevenson left yesterday for Washington. Hundreds of people turned out to witness his departure.

BARNACLES ON THEIR BOTTOMS. Why the Ships of the Flying Squadron Must Be Docked.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Admiral Gherardi brought some very interesting information with him concerning the ships of the flying squadron. The believers in sheathing are taking much comfort from the intelligence that the ships of the fleet were materially impeded in their progress by the conditions of the bottoms of the vessels.

There were no huge growths, such as is sometimes the case with ships which have seen long service in the Pacific, but the bottoms of the vessels were covered with minute barnacles which gave the hulls the appearance of impenetrable sheets of sandpaper.

This microscopic roughness was sufficient to interrupt the speed as the journey continued, and during the last weeks of the cruise the speed decreased two knots per hour from the speed of starting. The ships will have to be docked in order that they may make a decent showing in speed at the coming naval pageant in the Hampton roads and at New York.

It is reported that the cost of fuel alone to bring these ships around from San Francisco is about $120,000. This sum is more than it would ordinarily be on account of the marine growth on the bottoms of the ships. In connection with this the navy department has received information through its agents abroad of the details of the new warship to be laid down at the Chatham dockyard for the British navy.

The ship will be within the limits of the royal sovereign class, with a speed of 18 knots, which may be sustained by the sheathing of the hull. For the latter, three and a half inches will be used covered with copper, which will enable the ship to keep the sea for lengthened periods without docking.

CLEVELAND'S TRIP.

How the President-Elect Will Go to Washington.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—The presidential special train, which will run over the Reading railroad, carrying the president-elect and party from Lakewood to Washington, on Thursday will consist of a Royal blue line baggagecar and the private cars Baltimore, Oriental and Monmouth. The train will leave Lakewood at 12:15 p. m., reaching Elizabeth at 1:30 p. m., and Bound Brook 2:15.

In order to avoid a probable crowd it will stop at a point outside of Philadelphia to change locomotives and will pass through the station at Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets about 3:35, without stopping. It is due at Washington at 6:30.

Religious Revival.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 28.—The most remarkable revival of religion known in the history of this section of the state is in progress here under the auspices of Dr. Chapman, the Philadelphia evangelist. Prayer meetings were held in 1,500 homes yesterday morning and business work was accomplished. The pension bill, involving an expenditure of about $167,000,000 was passed without any debate of consequence. It appropriates for army and navy pensions (including widows and minor children) $165,000,000, and about $1,500,000 in addition for fees of examining surgeons, clerk hire at pension agencies and some small items.

Mr. Gorman (Dem., Md.) commented upon the magnitude of pension appropriations and gave it as his opinion that it would be necessary to appropriate $200,000,000 for pensions next session. There was a general expression of opinion in the discussion which took place that no material reduction could be effected except through a repeal or modification of some of the laws on this subject and that there were no probabilities of such a thing.

Sen. Colquitt of Georgia made his appearance in the senate chamber yesterday for the first time this session, and he was the object of sympathetic attention on the part of his fellow senators.

The day closed with the delivery of eulogies upon the late Senator Kenna of West Virginia.

CLEVELAND'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

It Will Be Brief and More General Than Specific in Character.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 28.—St. Clair McElroy, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, who has been for several days at Lakewood, writes his paper as follows.

"Grover Cleveland's inaugural address as president of the United States will contain about 1,700 words and will be more general than specific in character. The address will express Mr. Cleveland's profound gratitude to the people for the honor thus a second time conferred upon him as a mark of confidence in him and belief in the principles upon which he was elected. His utterances upon the financial policy, tariff and economy of administration will be decisive and frank.

"Confidence in Democratic principles as able to deal with the problems of labor and capital, sectional divisions, political unrest, will be expressed. The abolition of federal interference with elections in the states will, it is said, be treated as a recognized decision of the people. The pension department, the new navy, a rigorous quarantine and the regulation of immigration will probably receive attention. The president may not refer openly to the question of the annexation of Hawaii, but will take a conservative stand on the subject, and not act hastily."

Explosion in a Blast Furnace.

BELLAIR, O., Feb. 28.—A terrible explosion occurred yesterday at 6 o'clock at Benwood, W. Va., opposite this city. A hot blast furnace at the Riverside works was blown up and William Kelley, John Mooney and William Duff, of Benwood, and Patrick Corigan of Wheeling were seriously burned. Kelley is not expected to recover. His eyes were burned out and he is unconscious.

Collision in a Cut.

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 28.—A bad wreck occurred on the Consolidated road near this city yesterday evening. Two freight trains collided in a cut and both were piled up in an undescribable mass of wreckage. The trainmen had timely warning and escaped by jumping. Scarcely had the freight wreck occurred when the Short Line through extra dashed into the wreckage jamming and wedging cars and engines into a chaotic mass. Fireman Charles Bedell was crushed by the falling cab and received internal injuries, which are supposed to be fatal.

Explosion in a Blast Furnace.

WILMINGTON, O., Feb. 28.—A terrible explosion occurred yesterday at 6 o'clock at Benwood, W. Va., opposite this city. A hot blast furnace at the Riverside works was blown up and William Kelley, John Mooney and William Duff, of Benwood, and Patrick Corigan of Wheeling were seriously burned. Kelley is not expected to recover. His eyes were burned out and he is unconscious.

RICHMOND, Feb. 28.—A special to The Dispatch from Pocahontas, Va., says a fire that broke out at midnight has destroyed an entire block of 20 houses, stores and dwellings. The lodgerooms of the Red Men, Knights of Pythias and Royal Arcanum, together with their contents, were also burned. Loss about $100,000; partially insured.

Swedish Bark Ashore.

Reading Employees Paid.

READING, Pa., Feb. 28.—Paymaster Guy completed yesterday the payment of the January wages of the Reading railroad employees in this city, having disbursed $14,000.

RUSHING BUSINESS.

Both Branches of Congress Hard at Work.

A GOOD DAY'S WORK DONE.

Several Appropriation Bills Passed and a Long Step Taken in the Direction of Winding Up the Business, and the Dangers of an Extra Session Have Been Greatly Lessened.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Both houses did a good day's work and took a long step in the direction of winding up the business, so as to lessen the danger of an extra session. The greatest interest was centered in the house. Many important measures were awaiting action. Mr. Peel of Arkansas was the first gentleman to watch the speaker's eye and he moved the passage of the Indian appropriation bill under suspension of the rules. There was no objection to the measure, but it was made a pivot, around which circled a general discussion of the anti-option bill.

Mr. Peel's motion having been agreed to, discussion of the Sherman bond amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill followed with some warmth, and finally all the senate amendments to the measure were non-concurring in and the bill was sent to conference.

Few members of the house anticipated the smooth sailing that this bill met with and when it was sent to conference there was a sigh of relief all over the house. It was anticipated that there would be a stubborn fight on the Sherman bond amendment, and the fact that it was disposed of so expeditiously was a matter for general congratulation.

One of the surprises of the day was the ability of the friends of the car-coupler bill to secure, under a suspension of the rules, an agreement to the senate amendments, and as soon as the bill signed by the president it will be a law.

The conference report on the military academy bill was also agreed to, and inasmuch as the report was also agreed to in the senate that measure is out of the way.

In the senate equally as expeditious work was accomplished. The pension bill, involving an expenditure of about $167,000,000 was passed without any debate of consequence. It appropriates for army and navy pensions (including widows and minor children) $165,000,000, and about $1,500,000 in addition for fees of examining surgeons, clerk hire at pension agencies and some small items.

Sen. Colquitt of Georgia made his appearance in the senate chamber yesterday for the first time this session, and he was the object of sympathetic attention on the part of his fellow senators.

The day closed with the delivery of eulogies upon the late Senator Kenna of West Virginia.

Just Finding It Out.

FINDLAY, O., Feb. 28.—It was learned yesterday that Charles Sprague, who is in jail at Kittanning, Pa., charged with complicity in the attempted bank robbery and murder at Leechburg, Pa., is Charles, better known as "Doc" Spayne of this city, a well known buncy man and professional swindler, though the son of respectable and honored parents. It is believed that the whole gang is from Findlay.

Death of a Mayor.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Feb. 28.—Major John Wynne, mayor of this city, died yesterday of paralysis, aged 76 years. His remains will be taken to Erie on Wednesday for interment.

FELL WITH A CRASH.

A Terrible Calamity in Chicago in the Dead of Night.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—At 1:30 o'clock this morning the wall of a building which was lately burned, at 767 Halsted street, was blown down. It fell upon a 2-story building at 765 Halsted street, occupied by the families of John Smith, a saloonkeeper, and James Kunze, a jeweler.

Ten people were killed by the falling wall. They are:

John Smith.

Dollie Smith, his daughter, 13 years of age.

"Babe" Smith, son, 10 years of age.

Hattie Smith, daughter, 4 years of age.

Pauline —, domestic in the Smith family.

James Kunze.

Mrs. James Kunze.

A son of James Kunze, 21 years of age.

The building which collapsed was owned by John York, a large dealer in dry goods, and was destroyed by a fire a few weeks ago. It was five stories high, nearly 150 feet deep and had a heavy front of white stone.

York began to rebuild immediately after the fire, and, as not all of the walls were down, he had built the new wall on the top of what remained of the old one. It is supposed that the green wall was not sufficiently braced. It weakened and fell with a loud crash, with the above fearful result.

The Bramel Will Case.

The case of Sothern Bramel and others against Turner Bramel and others is on trial in the Circuit Court. The suit is to break the will of the late John Bramel. He was a wealthy old bachelor, and left an estate variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000. He bequeathed most all of his property to the wife and children of his brother, Turner Bramel, leaving nothing to his other brothers and his sisters and their children.

There is a big array of legal talent in the case, the plaintiffs being represented by Wadsworth & Son, T. C. Campbell, E. L. Worthington, C. D. Newell, J. N. Kehoe and Allan D. Cole, while Cochran & Sons and Whitaker & Robertson appear for the other side.

Train on Fire.

The smoking car attached to the north-bound train on the main line of the Kentucky Central yesterday morning was burned at Talbot Station, three miles north of Paris. The fire was caused by the explosion of a can of gasoline, which some passenger had placed near the front door. The coach was crowded with passengers when the explosion occurred, and several were seriously burned, among them G. C. Lockhart, Wm. Tarr, Dr. J. M. Jamison, J. W. McShain, Robt. Goggin, M. H. Applegate, Wm. Ballenger and Red Crawford. Mr. Goggin formerly lived at Washington, but is traveling now for the Power Grocery Company of Paris.

It Was a Success.

The Eleventh Avenue opera house contained a fair-sized audience when the spectacular melodramatic comedy, "Uncle's Darling," was presented, with Hettie Bernard Chase in the title role. The performance was quite smooth and even throughout. During the progress of the play there were some acting animals, dogs, redeer, and the like, which added greatly to the realism of the polar scenes of the piece. The scenery was fine, particularly in the third act, where the snow-bound land of Alaska is shown with a ship wedged in the ice. Taking "Uncle's Darling" as a whole, it was a very clever production by an evenly-balanced and competent company. The costumes and other paraphernalia were accurate to a degree.—Altoona (Pa.) Some folks don't seem to like it purty well if anything occurs they are interested in and you should not happen to mention the fact. They must remember that the way we get news is for the knowing ones to report it. Not long go a certain party said they had an arrival at their house and their was no notice taken of it. Why, bless your life, we would be only too happy to notice the arrival of twins at every house in town if when such an occurrence happens we are informed of the fact.

The Man From Boston."

Mr. John L. Sullivan, in the new play written especially for him entitled "The Man From Boston," makes his appearance at opera house on March 11. Great interest is excited in this production, as contrary to many pessimistic critics who foreboded a failure, Mr. Sullivan in adopting the stage as a profession has made a distinct success. The pugilistic arena held their idol for many years, and now that circumstances caused a slip-up, so to speak, in the round of victories of the gladiator, the theater-going public have taken up the role of worshippers and John L. is a more popular man to-day than ever. His impersonation of Captain Harcourt in "The Man From Boston" is said to be marked by a quiet force and a manly dignity few actors could bring to the part. Mr. Sullivan's rich voice adds not a little to the effect of the performance. Lawyer Price, the well known playwright of New York, has fitted Mr. Sullivan with an excellent play that shuns all cheap claptrap devices of ordinary melodramas, and depends entirely for its success on acting alone, thereby showing the positive advance that John L. Sullivan has made in his profession.

BUCKNER VS. BROWN

A Scorching Reply by the Ex-Governor to the Governor.

"Assume a Virtue if You Have it Not," Says the Former to the Latter.
Warm Times at Frankfort.

In a report to the Legislature on February 10 Governor Brown and Secretary of State Headley charged that the Mason & Foard Company, lessees of the State's convict labor, owed the State $94,000 and in referring to the building of the branch penitentiary at Eddyville the Governor and his Secretary made some statements that placed Ex-Governor Buckner and the other members of the old Sinking Fund Commission in a very bad light.

Ex-Governor Buckner has published an open letter in reply thereto. After explaining his connection with the building of the Eddyville penitentiary and showing that he had simply discharged his official duty in what he did, he closes with a scorching criticism of Governor Brown. He says:

"I think you are in error when you charge 'continuous delinquency' on the part of the lessees. In large and complicated transactions, such as theirs with the State, there are necessarily occasional unadjusted balances, arising from claims and counter-claims. From time to time, these may be arranged, when other similar differences may arise from like causes. Unfortunately you have a way of talking very inaccurately, and may call that a delinquency which, in fact, may only be a balance entirely capable of adjustment. There were such balances pending before the board of which I was a member when their terms of office expired. Our knowledge of the fairness and integrity of the gentlemen who were the lessees satisfied us that these claims, which were then in process of adjustment, could be satisfactorily and equitably arranged. If we had thought otherwise, and had regarded the lessees as delinquent, we would quietly have discharged our duty, under the law, and endeavored to enforce the penalty of the bond to the State."

"If a deficiency exists, it has become such during your administration. With its settlement your predecessors have nothing to do. You well know that they are powerless to intervene, and that the duty of enforcing a settlement devolves especially upon yourself. They have left in your hands, in the bond they took from the lessees, the means of enabling you to enforce a just settlement, if necessary. But, instead of executing the plain duties devolved upon you by the laws, you turn aside from their performance and snap and snarl and whine like 'a stranger cur' at the manner in which your two immediate predecessors performed their duty, and howl hyena-like over the grave of the lamented Blackburn, as if to drag his honored bones in the arena in extenuation of your own delinquency."

"Shame on such petty exhibitions of malevolent spite! Unless discontinued, you may yet enforce upon some grand jury the unpleasant duty of presenting you as a common scold."

"Assume a virtue, if you have it not."

"Put on, if you can, at least the semblance of true manhood, and, though there may lie within the same petty passions which now disfigure you, put on 'a swash and a manly outside,' that the people may fondly delude themselves with the hope that you are not altogether unworthy of the confidence they once reposed in you."

"While the manner and the language in which I have replied to your communication are entirely my own, it is my privilege to say that all the gentlemen with whom I was officially associated in the matters under discussion authorize me to state, each for himself as far as he was concerned in the transactions, that my presentation of the facts meets with their full concurrence."

"It has not been to me a source of any pleasure to reply to the wanton and unprovoked assault you have chosen to make on me and my official associates. When you entered on the duties of your office I earnestly desired the success of your administration in the interests of the people of the Commonwealth; and, on taking my leave of you, frankly and sincerely tender to you my humble services to aid you in explaining fully any matters connected with the late administration which might not be clear to your mind. It is due to you to say that you expressed, at that time, your appreciation of this friendly proffer, and intimated your purpose to avail yourself of it. But from that day to this you have never invited information either from me or from any of the gentlemen associated with me on the subject matter of your communication. But, indeed, you began soon to give out intimation of your purpose to make some horrible revelations, intentions that roared so loud and thundered in the index, that they seemed designed to fright the State from its propriety."

After eighteen months of painful gestation, amid throes and agonies to which the convulsions of the mountain that brought forth a mouse were as nothing, you were delivered of the still-born monstrosity whose dissection you have made it my painful duty to perform.

"It was the remark of one of our distinguished orators that there were some people of such contracted views they could not see that they had made a dollar unless they discovered that someone else had lost it; and it is an idea prevailing among some savages that they inherit the deeds and virtues of the warriors they slay. Some notion of this sort seems to have entered your mind and impressed you with the belief that if you could possibly succeed in inflicting the slightest taint on the reputation of another, it would be the means of removing a corresponding blot from your own escutcheon. As nothing had occurred to illustrate your administration, or place it above the lowest mediocrity, you evidently thought that the road to glorious achievement led through the dark labyrinths of defamation. As success in this line could not be attained by fair means, you seem not to have hesitated to resort to questionable methods. Though this mode of procedure in your past life has caused your name to be inscribed in dishonor on the archives of the government, you failed to profit by a lesson which must have proved so humiliating.

"The same methods have adhered to you. I have shown wherein you have concealed circumstances in order to deceive, have suppressed facts that disproved your assertions and have not hesitated even to invent calumny when thought necessary to your ends. You seem to have found in such methods something grateful and congenial to your nature, and habitually to have descended to a line of action the very suggestion of which would have been indignantly spurned by the Crittenden's, the Dixons, the Breathitts, the Shelbys and the other great names, our predecessors in the office to which you have been called. The contrast is so painful that I can not entertain for you any harsher feeling than one of profound compassion and, therefore, dismiss you to the contemplation of your own dark thoughts and to the repair of your torn, tattered and tarnished reputation."

THE motion for a new trial in the case of the Commonwealth against William Price was overruled this morning by Judge Harbeson. Defendant was recently convicted of shooting and wounding Deputy Marshal Stockdale and his punishment fixed at one year's imprisonment.

A PARTY of sixty-four people, representing fifteen families, from Mason, Fleming and Lewis counties, left this morning for Lane, Kan., where they have secured land from Major J. T. Long, and where they will make their home hereafter. They took with them eleven dogs, and two of their canines were left in this city.

IMPORTANT RULING

Made By Judge Harbeson in Reference to the Right of a City to Grade a Street.

A very important ruling was made by Judge Harbeson a few days since in the case of Combois against the M. and B. S. and the C. and O. railroad companies, pending in the Circuit Court.

The plaintiff owns property on the south side of Third street, Fifth ward, and is one of the many citizens who have sued the railroad companies for damages resulting from the cutting down of said street and the running of trains thereon. Mr. Combois sued for $1,500 damages, and the jury awarded him $900. The ruling referred to is embodied in an instruction given by Judge Harbeson to the jury. Many of the suits have been tried but this was the first time such an instruction was given. It is as follows:

The court instructs the jury that the city of Mayville has a right to fix the grade of any of its streets, and to change same as may appear to it to be necessary or proper to render them suitable for travel over them in all the usual and common modes, including travel on them by rail, but it has no right to cut a street down or authorize it to be cut down for the exclusive use and benefit of any one mode of travel and thereby render it unfit for use by other modes of travel for which public streets are ordinarily used, and in such a manner as to deprive abutting lot owners of their means of access to their property by way of said street by the usual and common modes of travel; and if the jury believe from all the evidence that the cut on Third street in front of plaintiff's property was made for the exclusive purposes of the railroad road and that said cut and the laying of the tracks thereon and the running of trains thereon renders said street unfit for use as a public street by the common modes of travel and cuts off or unreasonably interferes with plaintiff's access to his property by way of said street, then plaintiff is entitled to recover for such interference with access caused by the making of said cut and the building of the tracks and the running of trains thereon.

MRS. MARY MORAN died at 4 o'clock this morning at her home on East Fourth street. Deceased was seventy years of age, and had not been in good health for some time. Her husband, William Moran, died several years ago. She leaves six children, who have the sympathy of their friends in their bereavement. The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning at St. Patrick's Church. Burial at Washington.

WILBURN SCHINELLING, colored, was lodged in jail this morning in default of $300 bail, to answer a charge of grand larceny. He is accused of stealing three dozen chickens from Miss Fannie Lashbrooke one night last week. Wm. Smith, colored, who is implicated in the job, is also in jail. They will have a hearing to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock before Squire Grant. Constable Dawson has been at work on the case for several days, and made the arrests.

MR. WILLIAM COTTER died last night at 10:20 o'clock at his home at the head of Market street. Eight years ago he was stricken with blindness, and had been confined to the house ever since. He was eighty-five years of age, and died of general debility. Deceased was a man of quiet and industrious habits, and was a good citizen. He leaves a wife and two children—a son, James, who lives at Sulphur Springs, Texas, and a daughter, Mrs. Kelly, of Burtonville, Ky. Deceased was a member of St. Patrick's Benevolent Society and will be buried by that order. The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's Church. Burial at Washington. Deceased was born in County Cork, Ireland, and came to this city early in the '40's.

CAUSED BY A CIGARETTE.
smokingcar set on fire while running at full speed.

PARIS, Ky., Feb. 28.—The passenger train on the Kentucky Central branch of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, which passed here at 7:58 a. m. yesterday, caught fire when near Talbot Station, three miles from this city.

The smokingcar was destroyed, and several passengers were badly burned. A plumber had placed a can of gasoline by the door next the baggagecar, and M. H. Applegate, a newsboy, lighted a cigarette and threw the match down, not noticing the can.

Some oil on the outside of the can caught fire, and William Tarr, the distiller, who sat near the door, opened it and attempted to kick the can out, but knocked the stopper out. The oil caught fire and enveloped the can in flames. Men rushed for the doors and some jumped through the window.

The most serious burned are G. C. Lockhart, the Louisville and Nashville attorney; William Tarr, the distiller; Dr. J. W. Jameson, J. W. McShain, county assessor; R. Goggin, drummer of Paris; M. H. Applegate, newsboy of Cincinnati; William Hallenger of Kiser-ton, and Red Crawford of this city. It was a miracle that no one was killed.

Mr. Crawford's hand was badly burned by helping to get the corpse of Mrs. Florence Longmore Letton from the baggagecar, the remains being on their way to Covington for burial.

COLLISION OF FREIGHT TRAINS.

Three men killed and one injured on the Boston and Maine Railroad.

ST. JOHNSBURY, Vt., Feb. 28.—The worst accident that ever occurred in the history of the Passumpsic railroad division of the Boston and Maine took place just above St. Johnsbury Center at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when two through freights collided.

Fred Clarke, engineer of the up train; Charles West, an engineer who was riding on the same engine, and Fred Green, fireman on the down train, were killed. William Dowling, a brakeman, was hurt about the head, but not seriously. Engineer Bedard, of the down train, saved his life by jumping. None of the other trainmen were hurt. The cause of the accident was the forgetting of orders.

The damage to rolling stock will be large. Conductor Drew, who is held responsible for the wreck, has fled to parts unknown.

Quarrel Over a Dead Body.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Feb. 28.—Miss India Watkins was secretly married to Charles Heatley over a year ago, and nothing was known of it until last week, when she made a confession a few hours before she died. She was buried in the family burial grounds at Heatley, this county. Mr. Heatley wants the body removed, and the Watkins family have been compelled to keep a guard over the grave in order to keep Heatley from digging the body up. Heatley says he is bound to have all his wife's money and real estate, and her parents say he shall not. Both families are angry, and trouble is anticipated.

Sunday Shooting.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 28.—On Sunday night J. H. Roberts and Bud Whittemore, living at Barnardsville in this county, got into an altercation and began shooting. "Big Jim" Whittemore, father of Bud, ran to help his son and was shot, dying instantly. Roberts died last night of his wounds. Young Whittemore escaped. The killing was the outcome of trouble between young Whittemore and Roberts.

John Force Doubts Insane.

ATLANTA, Feb. 28.—Miss Julia Force, the murderer, is still a prisoner. She has surrendered to the chief of police a written statement about 20 pages of foolscap, and says that she killed her sister because she was jealous of the attention her mother and brothers were showing them. The statement shows evidence of the writer's insanity. The Force brothers have employed the best legal talent in the state to defend the murderer, and will make a stubborn fight for her.

More Money for Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The agricultural bill was reported to the senate yesterday with a net increase of $28,800. As passed by the house the bill carried $3,294,800, the estimates being $315,500. The items of increase are: Forestry investigation and experiments, $8,000; for agricultural experiment stations, $15,000; for irrigation investigations, $6,000.

Eighteen Cars Piled Up in a Heap.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., Feb. 28.—A bad wreck occurred on the Central railroad of New Jersey last night, blocking all travel until this morning. A mixed coal and freight train parted near White House, and when the front portion stopped the rear crashed into it. Eighteen cars were piled in a heap across both tracks. The damage will be about $10,000.

Youthful Murderer Sentenced.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28.—Robert J. Cascaden, aged 19, who on the night of Dec. 29, 1891, shot and killed Police Officer Elmer E. Findley while the latter was attempting to arrest him for burglary, yesterday pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree in the court of oyer and terminer. The plea was accepted by the commonwealth and Judge Thayer sentenced Cascaden to 12 years solitary confinement in the eastern penitentiary. The youthful murderer was tried last March, but the jury disagreed.

A Woman's Misfortune.

WABASH, Ind., Feb. 28.—Mrs. Samuel Jenkins of this city will suffer the loss of her right hand as the result of a trifling injury sustained Dec. 18, when she ran a comb tooth into her finger. Blood poisoning ensued, and her hand is so badly inflamed that amputation has been decided upon to save her life.

Fearing Diphtheria.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Feb. 28.—Diphtheria has become epidemic at Harris City, six miles south of here, and much anxiety is felt lest the disease should spread to this city. Eight or 10 cases are reported, with no deaths.

THE MARKETS.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.

There were offered at auction 1,543 hds., which is 328 hds. less than previous week's business. Over 70 per cent. of the packages bid off were new, consisting mainly of the common kinds and included a sprinkling of the descriptive, and while there was a good demand shown prices were a little weaker. The supply of these goods has become larger than the demand, hence the easing up of values. Good tobacco, however, are being bid up pretty well and prices generally acceptable.

Old tobaccos continue strong, particularly the inferior grades, which there is a scarcity. Common to medium and the good types are meeting with spirited competition, and a slight advance can be quoted in the latter.

One thousand three hundred and twenty-three hds. were received, against 1,683 hds. the preceding week.

Of the 1,093 hds. new sold from $2 to $3.05,

$16 from $1 to $5.25, 268 from $6 to $7.95, 216 from

$8.10 to $12.25, from $10 to $11.75, 66 from $15 to $17 and 4 from $20.

Of the 450 hds. old 5 sold from $1.90 to $3.80, 8

from $4 to $5.80, 14 from $6 to $7.95, 24 from $8 to $9.95, 314 from $10 to $14.75, 83 from $15 to $19.25.

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

Furnished by Glover & Durrett, Louisville Tobacco Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 4,296 hds., with receipts for the same period of 3,346 hds. Sales on our market since January 1st, amount to 29,615 hds. Sales of the crop of 1892 on our market to this date amount to 37,277 hds.

The offerings on our market have been large again this week and there has been no material change in values or the general tone of the market, however, has been a little stronger for new burley. The offerings of old burley on our market are light and the tendency of the past few weeks has been toward better values.
